HANLON FOR TERRY; ATTELL FOR DANE

Two Capable Judges Differ Widely in Opinion.

KNOCKOUT NOT EXPECTED

Each Thinks His Man Will Wear the Other Down by Constant Rushing.

By TAD. NEW YORK, March 10.-Eddie Han lon, who has fought both McGovern and Nelson, picks the former to win, and tells his reasons why. Eddie fought McGovern at Philadelphia and lost in the fourth round, after putting Terry flat on his back in the same round. He rushed in wildly and was battered to a corner when the referee stopped it. In San Francisco more than a year ago Eddie lost to Nelson after nineteen rounds of hard going. The referee also stopped this fight, as Hanlon was helpless.

In his letter he says:

In his letter he says:

Favors Terry. "I don't take this fight to be a cinch on either side. I am almost afraid to say who will win on a knockout, but say who will win on a knockout, but I rather favor Terry, after I consider all things. McGovern should give Nelson an awful fight for six rounds, and if his recent illness has left no bad effects he ought to win.

"McGovern is a much better puncher than Nelson.

"Terry can fight very fast for six rounds and if he is not all in, lookout. He may not put Nelson out, but don't be surprised if he drops him a few times."

Abe Attell, the featherweight cham-pion, who has met Nelson, thinks the Dane will win over Terry. Abe never met McGovern, but was matched with him, and has seen him in many a fight. He told me tefore the Murphy-Mc-Govern fight that Terry would win easily, and it came out so. This time he says Terry has no chance and will be worn down before the limit.

Dane Too Strong.

"I like Terry much better than I do the Dane," said Abe, "but as a fighter it is different. McGovern is not strong enough for this fellow, and I think he's enough for this fellow, and I think he's going up against it too hard. Nelson will be on top all the time and McGovern will never get a start.

"They say that Terry is a fierce rusher. Well, he never rushes the way Nelson does. He might be a harder hitter, but I'll tell you that his punches won't bother this fellow at all. Nelson has a funny way of blocking that gets you rattled. People think he is getting hit on the jaw all the time, but he is all elbows and gloves.

"My coln will go on Nelson, but I won't bet on a knockout. I feel that he will wear Terry down before the limit. I will just take my coln and bet on him to win the popular decision."

She was raced over Michigan tracks earlier in the season under her right name and then shifted South and started in green classes. As soon as the matter became public, a driver named Hennessey, who trained for J. T. This statement was at once put down as a further evidence of the ringing case, and horsemen looked upon it with renewed suspicion.

The report says that the matter is being looked after by the authorities of the American Trotting Association, and the harness world may yet hear of this burned-to-death pacer.

The weekly turf press always have hints about more than one suspected ringer, while it is a well-known fact that both Secretaries Gocher and Knight, of the National and American Trotting Associations, have a number of suspected ringing cases under investigation, and more evidences of this turf crime may be made public before the racing season opens.
